5 Ways that Lack of Visibility into Physician Schedules are Costing Your Hospital Money

HOSPITAL

Poor Communication

1. Outdated schedules lead to more calls to the wrong providers, an increase in inaccurate switchboard transfers, and slower message delivery time

Decreased Patient Safety

2. Inaccurate scheduling can lead to patient leakage, higher readmission rates, and lower reimbursements

Poor Employee Utilization

3. Manual processes lead to more FTEs due to increased switchboard calls, more training time, and more time creating and reporting on schedules

Lower Physician Retention

4. Increased physician frustration leads to higher recruitment costs, greater locum tenens needs, and higher onboarding costs

Higher Staffing Costs

5. Manual scheduling can lead to increased overtime, higher rates of burnout, and lower productivity
